

Longwood University
College of Education & Human Services
Communication Sciences & Disorders Program

CSDS 455: Neurology for Human Communication Online
Spring 2010

SYLLABUS

Instructor: Dr. Michele L. Norman	On Campus Office: Hull 224
E-mail: normanml@longwood.edu Phone: (434) 395-2341 (office) Fax: (434) 395-2148	Mailing Address: Longwood University 201 High Street, Hull 224 Farmville, Virginia 23909
Course Schedule: January 11, 2010 until April 30, 2010 Virtual Office Hours: Tuesday 1-3 pm EST Blackboard's Collaboration Lecture Hall	Technical support: Longwood Univ. Help Desk help@longwood.edu or try Clicking on "Getting Started" on Blackboard site

Course Description:

An overview of neurology as it relates to communication and communication disorders 3 credits. Prerequisites: CSDS 313

Required Texts:

Webb, W. & Adler, R. (2008). Neurology for the speech-language pathologist (5th ed.). Boston, MA: Butterworth and Heinemann.

Bhatnager, S.C. (2007). Neuroscience for the study of communicative disorders, (3rd ed.). Philadelphia, PA: Lippincott, Williams & Wilkins.

Note: You may order your textbook online by sending your request directly to the bookstore manager at <http://longwood.bkstore.com/default.asp?m=0601> or by visiting www.amazon.com. You should allow at least 10-14 days for delivery.

Additional References:

Johnson, A., & Jacobson, B. (2007). Medical Speech-Language Pathology: A Practitioner's Guide (2nd ed.). New York, NY: Thieme.

Nolte, J. (2002). The human brain: An introduction to functional anatomy, 5th Ed. St. Louis, MO: Mosby.

Seikel, J., King, D., & Drumright, D. (1997). Anatomy and physiology for speech, language, and hearing. San Diego, CA: Sing. Pub. Group.

Additional resources and web links are available on the Blackboard site.

Course Objectives:

The following conceptual framework competencies guide the planning and delivery of instruction in this course. Specific course objectives reflect this framework as they focus on the needs of the learners for developing skills as professionals who will be knowledgeable, caring and ethical decision-makers.

Longwood Conceptual Framework Competencies

CFC 1 – Plan for Instruction

CFC 2 – Implementation and Management of Instruction

CFC 3 – Evaluation and Assessment

CFC 4 – Knowledge of Subject

CFC 5 – Behavior Management

CFC 6 – Communication Skills

CFC 7 – Professional Responsibilities

CFC 8 – Technology

CFC 9 – Diversity

KASA Standards (applicable to this course)

Standard III-B. Demonstrate knowledge of basic human communication and swallowing processes, including their biological, neurological, acoustic, psychological, developmental, and linguistic and cultural bases

Upon completion of this course, learners should be able to:

1. describe the organization of the brain, including lateralization, lobes, brainstem, and cerebellum (CFC 4, KASA III-B)
2. describe hemisphere dominance for language (CFC 4, KASA III-B)
3. explain the function of the cranial nerves associated with human communication (CFC 4, KASA III-B)
4. describe the functional categorizations of the nervous system (CFC 4, KASA III-B)
5. explain neurons, synapses and the mechanisms of actions (CFC 4, KASA III-B)
6. describe the descending and ascending motor and sensory pathways (CFC 4, KASA III-B)
7. describe the blood flow to the brain, including the circle of willis and the cerebral arteries (CFC 4, KASA III-B)
8. discuss normal aging and its impact on the central nervous system (CFC 4, KASA III-B)
9. explain impact of stroke and traumatic brain injury to the brain (CFC 4, 7, KASA III-B)

Course Organization:

The course content will be organized into four modules:

Module 1: Introduction to the Course; Nervous System: Building Blocks and Organizational Structure

Module 2: Nervous System: Neurological Development and the Human Brain

Module 3: Systematic Functions: Cranial and Peripheral Nerves; Motor and Sensory Functions; and the Circulatory System

Module 4. Normal Development and Aging; Neuropathological Disorders

In general, modules are posted for about three week period. All assignments and activities are to be completed in the posted time frame. For each of the modules, learners will complete assigned readings (text and online readings), complete an online and/or PowerPoint tutorial, participate in a discussions, complete an ApplyIt! and Study Guide assignments, and Quizzes. Learners will complete an online midterm and final exam. Learners will also participate in periodic formative assessments aimed at providing feedback on course structure and design.

Course Policies:

Note: No more than nine Longwood non-degree graduate hours may be counted toward a degree, certificate or licensure program. Students are expected to apply to a Longwood graduate program prior to enrolling in classes. At the latest, all application materials should be received by the Graduate and Extended Studies Office before the completion of six hours.

Policy on Response to Learner Communication or Assignment. Interaction between learners and the instructor is an important component to the success of online learning. Learners can expect timely responses from the instructor (generally within one to two business days). Learners can expect verification of receipt of assignment within two-three business days after assignment due date. Communications or assignments which are sent late Friday or on weekends or holidays will be addressed on the next business day. The instructor will not be available during spring break. When possible, the instructor will notify learners in advance of days when not available.

Interaction with Instructor. The instructor will be available “live” each Tuesday from 1 pm until 3 pm EST through Blackboard. Enter Blackboard, select “Communication” from the menu and then choose “Collaboration.” Join the “Office Hours” area. This is optional for learners. The instructor is available by email and telephone.

Assignment Due Dates- All assignments will be due before midnight on the last posted day of the module. Quizzes will be due on the last day of the module unless otherwise posted. Be sure to participate in the discussions early and frequently for best responses and participation.

Responsibilities of the Learner- All learners are expected to abide by the Honor Code, and respect the intellectual property and copyright of others. Learners are expected to complete all assignments in a timely manner, including team assignments. Learners agree to interact with others in the course in a courteous and professional manner, recognizing the value of others opinions. Learners will recognize that they are part of a larger community of learners and that their diligent and regular participation in this course is to the benefit of all learners.

Policy on Late Work. Learners are expected to submit assignments by the designated date. Submit assignments through the Blackboard site using the links provided. Do not use the Digital Drop Box. If the links are not functioning within Blackboard, email the assignment to the instructor with a message indicating the problem you were experiencing with the link. Assignments submitted late will receive a 5% penalty for each calendar date beyond the due date, unless otherwise indicated by the instructor. It is important that you notify the instructor as soon as possible if you are experiencing any problems with an assignment, including late submission due to technical failure.

All coursework must be submitted no later than April 23rd. The final exam will be posted April 26th.

Extra credit – There will be no opportunity for extra credit work in this course. The occasional provision of bonus points or activities is at the discretion of the instructor.

Honor Code: Learners enrolled in this course are expected to abide by the Longwood University Honor Code when completing assignments and interacting with learners. This code is an affirmation of personal integrity and an acceptance of personal responsibility. For more information about Longwood's Honor Code visit

<http://www.longwood.edu/judicial/the%20philosophy%20of%20The%20Honor%20Code.htm>

Learners will be expected to read and sign a statement of the academic pledge at the beginning of the course. It is understood that this code applies to all works submitted as part of this course. A copy of the academic pledge document may be found on Blackboard in "Course Documents." Suspicion of any honor-related violation will be investigated and university policy will be followed.

Disability Statement: The instructor is willing to meet reasonable accommodations for any learners with a documented disability. The learner should submit supporting material to the Longwood University Academic Support Center which will then inform the instructor of the necessary accommodations. Submit the necessary documentation by the end of the first scheduled day of the online class.

Course Requirements:

Blackboard.longwood.edu - Each learner is responsible for verifying his or her access to Blackboard, CSDS 455. Announcements will be posted as needed throughout the week. Documents and discussions will be made available as needed across the duration of the course. Use Internet Explorer to access Blackboard.

Discussions – We will use Facebook for our discussions on selected topics. More instructions will be provided during the Modules. You will need an electronic picture of yourself for this activity.

Online Tutorials or PowerPoint presentations – Each module will include an online tutorial and/or PowerPoint presentation. Learners will be required to download all necessary plug ins (free). Please contact tech help desk for questions or concerns with a plug in (i.e. WinZip, Adobe Acrobat, etc)

Apply It! – Assignment entitled “Apply It!” focus on the application of the content material. These assignments may be individual or team efforts per instructions. Team work will be required within the course.

Study Guides - Each learner will be required to complete assignments entitled Study Guide with an answer key. The study guides will be in text and/or graphic format (i.e. concept map). Complete instructions are available on Blackboard. Make sure that the study guide you produce will actually help you study the content, not just fulfill the requirement.

Quizzes - Graded quizzes will be provided within a module which can also help you to study the information learned. These quizzes count toward your final grade. Complete them and use the results to study.

Midterm and Final Exam: The midterm and final exam will require the student to demonstrate an ability to apply the learning related to neurology of human communication. The examinations will be available online. Additional information about the exam will be provided.

Requirement	Possible Points Awarded
Discussions	20 points
ApplyIt! Assignment	40 points
Study Guides	40 points
Quizzes	100
Midterm and Final	200 points total
Total Points	400 points

Grading Scale:

A+	388-400 points
A	374-387 points
A-	360-373 points
B+	347-359 points
B	333-346 points
B-	320-332 points
C+	307-319 points
C	293-306 points
C-	280-292 points
D+	267-279 points
D	253-266 points
D-	240-252 points
F	0-239 points

Note: If you already have a bachelor's degree, you are considered a graduate student. Longwood University does not allow a grade of D for graduate students; therefore, if you earn less than a C-, the grade will be F.