Dear Student,

The Office of the Student Union and Student Involvement has worked to gather information on the registered Clubs and Organizations here at Longwood. We hope you find the information helpful and think about becoming involved with one of the organizations listed.

We in the Student Union know the value of getting involved on campus. Students who get involved in campus organizations have an opportunity to enhance their leadership skills, develop time management skills, interact with other students, create a connection between academics and extra curricular experiences, and continue to grow and learn about themselves as they develop into Citizen Leaders.

Our office is readily available to all students. For assistance or more information, please call (434) 395-2103. You can also find a wealth of information on the Student Union website: www.longwood.edu/studentunion.

What the Student Union can provide to Student Organizations:

Office of the Student Union & Student Involvement:

The Office of the Student Union and Student Involvement is a resource for your organization. We can assist you and your organization with event planning, the bi annual registration of your organization, how to start a club or organization, information on various speakers, bands, and novelty acts etc., and just an overall resource for your organization. The Office of the Student Union also coordinates the monthly “COOL” (Council of Organizations at Longwood) meetings and the Fall and Spring Club and Organization mandatory meetings.

Office of Leadership and Student Engagements

The Office of Leadership and Student Engagement provides a variety of programs designed to help new students have a successful first year experience at Longwood and develop essential leadership and citizenship skills through workshops, conferences, and volunteer and service programs. These programs begin the summer before a student enters Longwood and continue throughout the span of a student’s undergraduate career.

In addition to coordinating Orientation & Registration and New Lancer Days, the office, in conjunction with Student Educators for Active Leadership (S.E.A.L.), offers a variety of workshops and conferences as well as the Joan of Arc Leadership Program. To further develop students’ citizen leadership, the office assists students and student groups in identifying and completing meaningful and interesting volunteer opportunities in Farmville and the surrounding communities and helps faculty incorporate service into a variety of academic courses.

Other resources in the Student Union include the Office of Fraternity and Sorority Life, and the Office of Commuter Life, and SGA.

Please join us on Tuesday, September 11 from 4-6pm on Brock Commons for the Involvement/Volunteer Fair.
