

Study Abroad

Applications Now Available

Military History of Normandy

with Dr. David Coles and Dr. Steven Isaac

❖ Highlights ❖

From Medieval...

- ◆ Richard the Lionheart's "pet" castle at Chateau-Gaillard
- ◆ The Bayeux Tapestry & the Battle of Hastings
- ◆ Military Architecture in Frontier Castles
- ◆ A Day at Mont Saint-Michel
- ◆ Follow in the footsteps of William the Conqueror

...To Modern

- ◆ D-Day beaches, including "Omaha" and Point du Hoc
- ◆ German Coastal Defenses
- ◆ The Bocage
- ◆ The Bombardment of Le Havre
- ◆ Peace Museum in Caen (site of extensive house-to-house fighting)
- ◆ Meet with French Veterans

Normandy's military heritage is shared by much of the Western world, having been the focal point of numerous conflicts: Caesar's conquests, Viking invasions, the Norman Conquest of England, the wars of Richard the Lionheart, the Hundred Years' War, the U.S. Civil War, and both World Wars. We will be lecturing on-site on these topics and more, plus tapping the expertise of local historians, museums, and participants in World War II and the French Resistance. We will finish with three days in Paris.

❖ Information ❖

3-credit Course

Dates: 13—28 May 2007 (right after Graduation)

Open to all Longwood students and majors

Application Deadline: 13 October 2006

First Deposit Deadline: 3 November 2006

Second Deposit Deadline: 27 November 2006

Costs: We estimate a rough figure of $2500, but note carefully, that this number is subject to change until further notice. This figure will include transportation to/from France and within the country, all lodgings, entrance fees and a fair number of meals. It does not, however, include the tuition and fees which the University will charge separately.

Interested? Contact Prof. Isaac at isaacs@longwood.edu or come by Ruffner 227

Course Website: <http://www.longwood.edu/staff/isaacs/MlyHxNorm.html>